FESTIVAL MUSIC

CRS favourites Manning have had a busy old year, with touring up and down the country, and this

CD, whilst not an album of new material as such, is the stripped down Akoustic band recording songs - those which wouldn't normally hit the electric set list.

So we are treated to tracks like Silent Man, In My Life, the brilliant arrangement of In Swingtime, and my personal favourite Antares. Guy's vocals, as always, are excellent, and the subtle performances of the acoustic line up rearrange and breathe new life into some of these older songs.

This is a superb collection of reinterpreted classics, and if you're a Manning fan you'll love this. If you've never heard their work before then this is the ideal place to jump in. Wonderful stuff. JRT
