Making Shore (2023)

January 13th

Making Shore is a highly captivating and enjoyable mix of progressive rock and jazz funk, with other genre influences mixed in. The bass lines are excellent throughout, forming the basis of many of these tracks. The vocal performance is impressive too. This album is mixed very well and has a large variety of interesting timbres to enjoy. The overall sound reminds me at times of groups like Thank You Scientist, The Dear Hunter (Antimai), and Devin Townsend (vocals).
